

207 North Patty Loveless Drive • P.O. Box 964 • Elkhorn City, Kentucky 41522

Genesia Kilgore-Bowling
President, Board of Directors

Stephanie Richards
Executive Director

Samantha West
Artistic Director

Artists Collaborative Theatre Quick Facts

Artists Collaborative Theatre

Artists Collaborative Theatre (ACT) holds 7 productions per year, with 16 performances per show. The cost of admission for one adult is $10, or the cost of a ticket at a movie theatre. ACT is committed to keeping access to live, life enriching art affordable for everyone.

Kentucky's most award-winning community theatre!

School outreach programs in Fine Arts served over 3,000 students in 2017 through theatre production field trips and educational programming from 15 schools all across Pike County and into Virginia. This year, the children's acting troupe performed Shrek the Musical, Jr. and Peter Pan Jr.

65 students participated in completely tuition-free after school theatre classes and productions this year.

Parents in our area save $32,500 in theatre class tuition fees per year (based on local rates) with the tuition-free program.

High school student members of the International Thespian Society are the primary educators for tuition-free after school youth classes and direct the youth productions.

Graduating seniors are awarded $500 scholarships from ACT. Every youth who has gone through ACT programming has gone on to pursue or obtain a college degree – a 100% post-secondary placement rate!

ACT hosts the Elkhorn City Night Market twice per year, bringing in promotion and business for dozens of local artisans.

ACT brings in over $50,000 to local businesses, artisans, and restaurants through arts programming each year.

Women of Theatre Technology

28 students and 9 adults participated in The Women of Theatre Technology this year.

These women learn light and sound design and operation, stage management, and scenic and costume design and construction - areas of the profession which are highly dominated by men.

This unique program has received the University of Kentucky Diversity Award as well a NaCo Award for advancing Appalachian females in the areas of science and technology.